

Mr. George Giakouvakis is an Internal Audit Manager at Hellenic Post, since 2011. Previously, he held respective executive positions in Eurobank and Millennium bank, focusing on driving process improvements to provide greater management control. He started his career by joining Informer and Temenos Eastern Europe as Risk Management Consultant where he experienced business analysis, systems implementation and controls establishment. He was also providing third party Information Security and Quality Systems consulting and certifications services with TUV Hellas. He is a Fraud Prevention & Analytics course Instructor at National and Kapodistrian University of Athens and Corporate Governance guest Lecturer at Panteion University. He is Key Researcher on Corporate Reporting and Anti-Corruption Policies for Transparency International Hellas, Co-Founder and Director of Hellenic Association of Certified Fraud Examiners and served as member of the Board and Committees of Hellenic Institute of Internal Auditors and Hellenic Information Systems Audit & Control Association. He has been corporate spokesperson on Governance Risk and Quality Assurance, conducting independent fraud investigations and assessing security compliance efforts. He is providing training programs on Operational Risk and Management for Value concept and he published original articles on Fraud.

Mr. Giakouvakis holds a master degree in Risk Management, Operations and Regulations from University of Reading and has a significant number of international professional qualifications: Certified Internal Auditor, Certified Lead Auditor, Certified Fraud Examiner, Certified Anti-Corruption Manager, Certified in Risk/Control Self-Assessment, Certified in Risk Management Assurance, Certified Derivatives Market Maker/Trader, and Certified Securities Clearing.